

2002 Creek Steward Award Presentation

Tiko Beverly and Antwaun Parnell pose with the 2002 Creek Steward Award. They are among the approximately 70 local young people receiving the certificates. Both these young men have participated in water pollution prevention activities for over 10 years, as has Ashley Jaramillo pictured below on the left.

Grant High School principal Larry Brown congratulates the students after the 2002 Creek Steward Award Certificate presentations. The certificates were designed to facilitate photocopying for inclusion with future college, scholarship, and job applications.

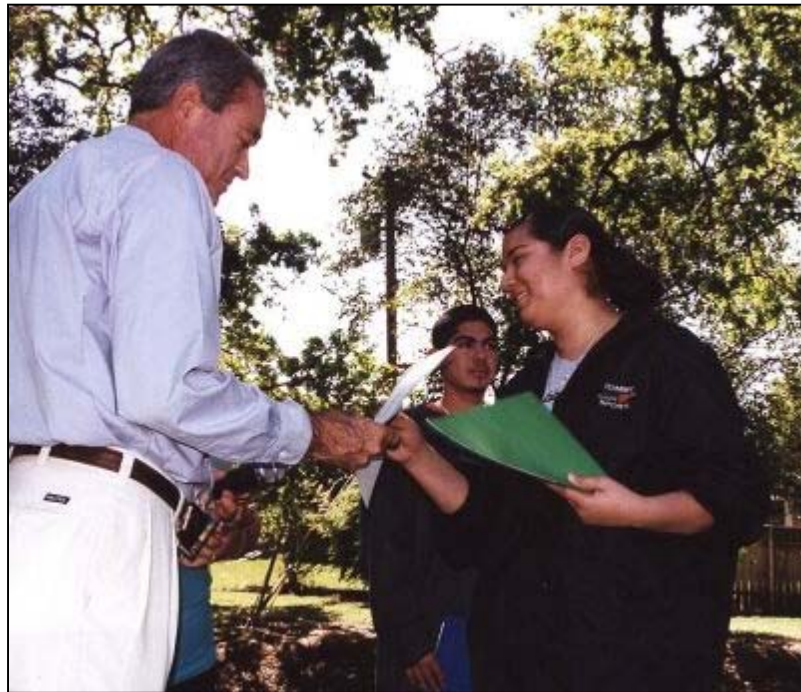

Tiko Beverly explains the youth contributions to the community involved in the water pollution prevention project; including creek cleanups, storm drain stenciling, riparian tree plantings, natural park maintenance, and many popular community outreach exhibits.

Kirk (J.R.) Walker accepts his Creek Steward Award Certificate from Tom Howard, Deputy Director of the State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB).

Tiffany Scoggins accepts her certificate.
